PLATINUM RUSH
STARTS, EDSON

Two Men Believe They Have Rich Find—Analyst Not Hopeful St. Patrick's Day proved lucky for two men in the Yukon. They discovered what was at first believed to be a valuable deposit of platinum in a creek 42 miles west of Edson.

Much Legislation
Ready For Assent

Following completion of the debate on the motion to give assent to the bill, the government will turn its attention to the consideration of legislation.

Several other bills, including one dealing with the Yukon, are expected to be introduced into the House of Commons.

Wants Dominion to Share in Possible Losses from Pools

Many Members Enter Debate on Bill to Implement Government Bank Guarantees

In any case that might ultimately come through the guaranteeing of bank loans in respect to operations of the wheat pool, the Dominion government should participate with the wheat pool, the Dominion government should participate with the wheat pool, the Dominion government should participate with the wheat pool.

HUGGINS HITS OUT
In making his assertion, Mr. Duggan struck out forcefully, stating that the burden should not be borne entirely by individual members of the pool.

He directed the major portion of his attention to the fourth consideration with which he referred to Clause 4 of the bill, which provided for financial guarantees.

He contended that as a year had passed since the guaranteeing bill had been passed, there had been no action to be taken. Yet there was no action to be taken.

Continuing, Mr. Duggan charged that the legislature was not doing its duty in passing the clause as it was drafted.

He considered that the circumstances of the agreement, which had been made, were such that the government should be held responsible for the guaranteeing of the pool.

BEER PETITION STILL IN AIR; TO BE CHECKED

Goes Back to Legislative Clerk for Further Scrutiny

The validity of the anti-beer petition presented to the legislature some weeks ago is not much more settled than when it was first presented. As a result of the introduction of the petition, the legislature has been asked to check the petition.

Mr. McPherson took the petition charges on by one and answered them. He stated that the petition was not valid.

TUESDAY, MARCH 24, 1931

GET ON WITH THE JOB

The two chief recommendations made in the Griesthorpe report were approved by the city council last night as the basis for the reorganization of the city's police force. The appointment of a police commissioner was approved in principle. And council agreed that the police association should sever its relations with any and all outside organizations, the specific reference being to the trades and labor union and to the I.O.O.F.

These then are the conditions under which Chief Shute is to attempt a readjustment of the force. Whether the commissioner is to be a police officer or a layman is an open question. It would seem reasonable that if the force is to work under a commissioner, which body will be responsible for its efficiency, the sooner the commissioner is created the better. Reconstruction would probably be got along with in a few days, and the police force would be under the supervision of the police commissioner by the time it is being made.

Whether that is done or not, one thing is certain: the police force is in a bad state. That is the late enlisting but unhelpful inquiries be forgotten as quickly as is humanly possible, and that all parties concerned in the police force should and order in the city give their services loyalty to each other and to the public to that end.

The efficiency of our protective force has been sharply called into question. Its limitations and supposed limitations have been trumpeted in the newspapers. The commissioner has been created in co-operation with the police force. It is the business of council, commissioners and Chief to see that the reorganization is put through promptly and on lines that will give the citizens the thorough efficiency to which they are entitled and for which they are prepared to pay.

THE POLICE MUDDLE

It may be that a more unfortunate way could have been found of going about the reorganization of the police force than that which has been followed, but this does not seem to be probable. That must be clear enough at this time to the public, and it is assuredly in the public interest.

The upshot of the whole devious procedure was that the Chief Shute was made comprised as the appointed victim of an attack on the part of Mayor Douglas and a group of the aldermen, with the Mayor leading in the attack. The Chief Shute declared that there was "nothing in it" when his attention was called to the report published in the propaganda extra issued by friend Johnson.

On Saturday the newspaper which thus threw black ink upon the supposed plot stated in an editorial: "Now before the police investigation was set under way, it was confidently stated in usually well-informed quarters that Sutherland was to replace Shute."

Well, if that was the intention, why in the name of common sense was the propaganda brought into council? The Chief Shute was not a police officer, and above board way, and the change made as changes in departmental heads are commonly made, and the Chief Shute readily accepted responsibility of council?

Instead, a commissioner was appointed to investigate the police department from them to guide and to see that the police to the city, it is to be assumed. The commissioner said nothing about "firing Shute," and the police force said nothing about "firing Shute," and the police force said nothing about "firing Shute," and the police force said nothing about "firing Shute."

In the light of subsequent developments the failure of the commissioner to suggest the removal of the Chief Shute may be the reason why the totally unexpected step was taken of proposing that the Provincial Government be asked to police the city. That scheme proving abortive, the Journal came into action with its propaganda special, carefully prepared to bring upon the Chief Shute to resign and thus clear the way for the carrying out of the plan which it says was being talked about in "well informed quarters."

Through the fog of controversy and rumor that has followed one fact stands out. A situation has been created and it is neither helpful to the efficiency of the police force, conducive to the security of the citizens, nor in keeping with the dignity a city council should preserve and the public confidence it is being.

THE POOL STILL "IN JEOPARDY"

The statement of Premier Brownlie in regard to the position of the wheat pool is clarifying, and will therefore be welcomed by the public, if the position thus disclosed is to be no more satisfactory as expected and hoped when the Government a year ago came to the assistance of the pool. At least it shows that the pool—and the corresponding organizations in Saskatchewan and Manitoba—has been maintained as a going concern. That in the circumstances is a matter of major importance to the taxpayers of the province, as well as to the pool members; perhaps a matter of greater concern to the former than to the latter.

It is not news that the intervention of the provinces last summer saved the pool from collapse, and prevented the immediate throwing on the market of an enormous amount of wheat; the effect of which must have been the demoralization of prices to a degree worse than that which actually occurred. What has not been so clearly understood heretofore is that the pools are in another crisis last fall, when the banks were unwilling to finance the marketing of the new crop on the usual terms, in view of the market conditions and the accumulation of 1929 wheat still unsold.

As the result of negotiations between the provincial and Dominion Governments and the city's relief, the intervention made by the Dominion Government which enabled the marketing of the new crop to be carried out; and the intervention made by the Dominion Government which enabled the marketing of the new crop to be carried out.

Whatever fault may be found with the detailed action of the Alberta Government in dealing with the difficult situation that it is created by the unprecedented slump in prices during the summer and fall, the outcome is that the Alberta pool is still in existence and still carrying on its work.

fund, but the pool members should and will be duly thankful.

The only alternative to maintaining the pool was that the province should close and take possession of the pool elevators, pay the banks, and undertake to salvage what it could by operating as a pool.

RECOMMENDED SOLUTION OF PROBLEMS

Agricultural Committee Brings Down Report to Legislature

Establishment of an agricultural establishment board in Canada to develop export markets and supervise the export trade in farm products was recommended to the legislature Tuesday by the agricultural committee of the House of Commons.

The committee, which has met several times during the session in an effort to solve the problem of the export trade in farm products, has recommended that the government should establish a board to develop export markets and supervise the export trade in farm products.

Highlights of the Big Meeting

"Not a word in the Greenish report contains a suggestion about the efficiency of Chief Shute, not a sentence in it implies his honesty," a committee member from the speech last night of A. C. L. Gibbs, Rice Bishop, Dan Knox, C. G. O'Connor and A. G. Blair.

Major Douglas, acting as a free spokesman, when the vote on the resolution of Chief Shute's resignation was taken, said the Greenish report, which acted as chairman, from reading the document.

Mr. Gibbs moved the police investigation in the first place and agitated for its prosecution, maintaining an unswerving silence all the meeting until he moved concern in "the commission."

Mr. R. B. Bellamy, charged that affiliation of the Police Union with the Trades and Labor Council and its contributions to the Canadian Labor Party had the effect of bringing pressure to bear on Labor adherents to the detriment of the public interest.

And A. G. Blair, rising to ask if membership in the C.G.A., Conservative of Labor party, had the same effect, and if not, why in the name of logic, why not?

Mr. Knox pointed out that the public could expect any action since the last election had had the effect of bringing every member of the party to the fore.

Mr. Gibbs, who were the "prominent citizens" named in the Greenish report as having brought influence to bear on the police, said the destruction of the morals of the force, and getting no answer.

Mr. Bellamy protesting vigorously against the broadcasting of proceedings of committee. Said he: "It seems to me that the committee is not only the United States, but also the world to be ridiculed."

The crowd, the biggest yet present at a meeting of the City Fathers, cheering the Chief vigorously, heard him arrive and after his vindication.

Mr. A. H. Baker, smoothly as Graham McNamee, announcing the name of each addresser over the radio before he spoke.

Unemployed Men At Meeting Of Council

Fate of 140 single unemployed men who were recently struck off the relief list, and the thousand odd men for whom relief will be stopped on April 1, was discussed by the city, provincial and federal governments, in a meeting of the Edmonton branch of the National Association of Unemployed.

Delegates from that organization attended the session of the city council Monday night and asked what steps if any were being taken to ease their lot.

Mr. H. Nelson, member of the delegation, asked the mayor and aldermen to redress wrongs done in striking men off the relief list who were said to have been reported to a doctor.

When we got out of money we had to have to stop," was the story in the press stating that the king was finding it difficult to live on the meagre of $200 a month. He asked councilmen to pass resolutions to the effect that the king was finding it difficult to live on the meagre of $200 a month.
